Attendance Guidelines & Entry T&C

These terms and conditions of entry apply to all who attend Overload, including exhibitors, sponsors, volunteers and visitors/members of the public. Please keep these rules in mind and help make Overload a pleasant and special experience for all.

All attendees to the event must adhere to the following rules:

- Do not engage in activities that interfere with other attendees.
- Weapons, dangerous goods, alcohol, drugs and animals are prohibited at the event.
- Do not block or place items in front of fire exits.
- Follow the directions of Overload Staff or designated volunteers.
- The Overload committee reserves the right to deny entry to the event or remove any persons considered a nuisance. If anyone acts in a manner which other Overload attendees find unpleasant, upsetting, offensive, dangerous, intimidating or frightening, they will be immediately required to cease, and if the behaviour is repeated they will be removed from the Venue by Overload Staff and entry fee will not be refunded.
- Any apparel or costume featuring offensive or rude images are prohibited (i.e. Ahegao, Hentai apparel).
- Children, the age of 13 or under, must be accompanied by an adult or guardian at all times.
- Any and all transactions between an artist / vendor and customer are the responsibility of said parties.
- For filming or taking photos at Overload, media, production companies, and social media influencers must obtain permission from the Overload committee before filming at the event. For personal use, individuals must get permission from the subject before filming them.
- Please note filming by the Overload committee or permitted persons will be taking place at the event.

Overload Introduction

Overload is a festival devoted to celebrating New Zealand's continually growing Anime and Manga culture! With a focus on artists, this lively event sees local fans and creative enthusiasts gather each year to exhibit and sell their creations. Overload is a fun-filled convention featuring international guests, Cosplay, competitions, performances and genuine, unique collectible Anime/Manga goodies.

Overload is a non-profit event, presented by an entirely voluntary group, the Overload Committee, under the direction of Anime NZ Ltd. The Overload Committee works for a whole year to organise the event, in conjunction with 60+ other volunteers.
